Heights Homes Rocked As Jet Plane Crashes

A flaming jet plane, carrying with it the lives of two young pilots, hurtled from the skies Thursday to transform an Arlington Heights backyard from a happy gathering place for children to a horrifying scene of death.

Almost overshadowed in the awesome wreckage was the fact that four Arlington homes on Lowell street and Westminster avenue escaped destruction by less than 50 feet.

The flaming jet plummeted from about 30,000 feet after being in collision with another Air Force plane somewhere over Stoneham.

The impact of the crash dug an eight foot crater into the ground. Debris from the plane littered the entire area.

Several residents saw the plane as it flashed across Medford and Winchester as though guided to its final destination in Arlington.

Houses on Westminster ave. and Lowell street ring the large yard, making it an ideal playground for youngsters. The crash occurred at 11:32 a.m. when most of the children were in school.

The second plane crashed into a home in Winchester starting a general alarm fire. The pilots of the Winchester crash parachuted to safety.

But killed in the plane which crashed in Arlington were Lt. John P. Horan and Lt. Joseph G. Izze, both stationed at Falmouth.

Hundreds of residents called the Arlington police at the time of the crash.

Fire Department men were at the scene in less than two minutes.

Center Changes, Pay Raise To Feature Town Meeting

A total of 81 Articles will be acted upon by the Annual Town Meeting when it convenes Monday, March 17.

Highlights of the Meeting will be:

Two Articles seeking pay increases for Town Employees;

Arlington Development Commission articles asking authorization to go ahead with plans for the redevelopment of Arlington Center.

Conveyance of land at Reservoir Field for an Old Age Housing Development.

An article asking that the controversial "127-vote" rule to amend Town by-laws be changed to a majority of Town Meeting Members present;

The pay raise articles include a four percent boost recommended by the Personnel Board and a straight $312 across the board raise asked by the Employees.

The Personnel Board is also recommending individual raises in 13 other articles.

The Arlington Development Commission articles are basically the same recommendations made in the Benjamin Report.

The Commission is asking that authorization be given to:

1. Take the Russell Common by eminent domain.

2. Take a strip of land beside the Russell school at the rear of the stores fronting Massachusetts ave., for a driveway.

3. Relocate Mystic st., from Chestnut st., to Massachusetts ave.

4. Acquire two lots of land (and houses) on Mystic st., in the event Mystic st. is relocated.

5. Widen Winslow st.

6. Create a new way from Russell terr., to Mill st.

7. Rezone Town land at Mystic and Summer sts.

8. And rezone land at the Summer st., Playground.

None of the Commission articles ask an appropriation. The article asking that the current one over total majority of Town Meeting Members (not just those present) to change Town by-laws be amended was defeated at the Special Town Meeting in November.

It was this ruling which defeated a Fire and Police raise last year. The case is currently before the courts. Whatever the result of this article, it is thought that the current asked-for pay raises will need 127-votes to pass.

The conveyance of land for an Old Age Housing Development will be before the Town Meeting for the third time. But this time it is for another piece of land.

Twice the Housing Authority was defeated in attempts to gain land at Summer and Mystic sts. It is now seeking land at Reservoir Field.

Another article asking that an overpass into the Field be constructed has been inserted by the Selectmen.

A surprise article asking the creation of a stabilization fund has been inserted by the Finance Committee.

This will be a reserve fund from which money may be taken to be used for municipal projects or which borrowing is allowed.

Still another article, inserted by the Selectmen, asks that $450,000 be taken from the excess and deficiency fund to help reduce the tax rate.

18-Year-Old Youth Held As Seller Of 'Zip Guns'

An 18-year old Marion rd., youth goes on trial today charged with manufacturing "zip-guns" and selling them to other Arlington teen-agers.

Police Chief Albert E. Ryan said yesterday that the guns, capable of firing a single, 22 calibre bullet were made from toy cap pistols.

Police said that the youth was receiving at least $3 for every weapon.

Technically, he is being charged with illegal possession of firearms.

After breaking the case and arresting the youth, police spent two days rounding up the weapons from other boys. It is not yet known whether the purchasers of the homemade guns will also face charges.

Mothers March Stalls In Storm

The annual Mothers March Against Polio, usually successful here, ran into a snag Tuesday night when rain and snow hampered mothers and teenagers in their door to door quest for funds.

According to Chairman Robert Mahoney, about $4,000 will be realized from this year's March. This is below the usual donation.

Mahoney blamed the weather for the lapse. Many of the younger collectors were kept home by their parents.

Mahoney urged anyone who was not contacted during the Mothers March to mail their

Youth Week Planned At First Baptist Church

This is Youth Week at the Arlington First Baptist church.

The theme is "Lord Help Thou our Unbelief." During the week, parents in the Heartstone Groups are sponsoring small meetings of young people in their homes to discuss problems of faith, life, and loyalty which stem from the theme.

Sunday, Feb. 2, will begin a series of four Family Night meetings, from 5 to 7 p.m. Children through the 6th grade will be cared for while they have their own junior program learning about Japanese Christians.

In the senior program, young people will represent their groups to summarize in a panel discussion the results from their meeting.

Dr. York A. King, retired Baptist minister, will be the "Forever Young" member of the panel, representing "Faith For Ninety Years." Refreshments will be served by young people in cooperation with a hospitality committee.

By picture and description, Mrs. J. Clark Wyman will serve as interpreter to translate problems to Japan where Christian Missionaries face the task of answering questions of young Japanese.

On Feb. 9, the second Family Night meeting will feature "Conquest in Burma," by the Drama Trio from the University of Redlands, California.

The Family Night series is planned by the committee on Missionary and Stewardship Education, Mrs. William E. Bailey, chairman.

'Great Decisions--1958' To Be Discussed Here

Many people in Arlington are taking part in the 1958 discussion program sponsored by the World Affairs Council of Boston.

Eight foreign policy issues, facing the United States in the year ahead will be discussed during February and March with the help of fact sheets and pamphlets prepared by the non-partisan, Educational Foreign Policy Association.

The discussions are to help everyone make decisions about which direction foreign policy should take.

Seven Arlington groups have already been planned.

Two at Robbins Library will meet first on Tuesday, Feb. 4, at 9:30 a.m. and on Friday, Feb. 7, at 8 p.m.

Other groups will meet in the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Blackmon, Mr. and Mrs. George Blackwood, Mr. and Mrs. Belmont Farley, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Linson, and Captain and Mrs. F. Wolak.

Everyone interested in joining one of these groups or in forming another group may call Mrs. Edward Holland, or Mrs. Belmont Farley.

The topics have been scheduled for discussion on WGBH-TV, Channel 2, and WGBH-FM for eight Fridays from 8:30 to 9:30 p.m.

A panel of experts will be moderated by General Henry Parkman, president of the World Affairs Council.

The subjects are: February 7, — Can we deal with Russia?

February 14, — What security in the Rocket Age? February 21, — United Europe—Partner or Rival? February 28, — Middle East—New U.S. Responsibility? March 7, — Awakening Africa—Promise or Threat? March 14, — What U.S. Economic Policy for Survival? March 21, — Should the U.S. Trade with Red China? March 28, — Whose UN is it?

In a letter to Postmaster J. P. W. Finn, Ralph R. Hudson, president of the local Chamber, said:

"Dear Mr. Finn: 'Too often, your department is criticized, while the good deeds of your employees go on unnoticed and without comment from the public.'

"This is to commend the men of your Arlington Heights station for their public spirit in decorating in a most appropriate fashion, and at their own expense, the Heights station during the holiday season.

"Such extra service, we feel should be recognized by the Post office officials and the patrons.

Very truly yours,
Ralph E. Hudson"

Full P. O. Address Means Zone Number

Post Office Department officials are currently using every available means to secure the co-operation of the public in making their addresses specific and complete through the addition of postal delivery zone numbers in cities where this method of mail separation is in operation.

Personal visits are being made by postal representatives to volume mailers to secure their voluntary co-operation in affixing zone numbers to address plates. Churches, lodges, institutions, schools and business firms of every description are urged to participate in improving mail service through the use of zone numbers in outgoing mail and the use of zone number in their own address.

Postmaster Joseph P. W. Finn has offered to place zone numbers for addresses in the Boston Postal District on any list submitted. There is no charge for this service. A similar service is offered by postmasters in other zoned cities.

A 1957 Postal Delivery Zone Directory, listing all of the streets and zone numbers in the 25 cities and towns of the Boston District is available to mailers, without cost, at their local post office.

Directories for other cities may be obtained from the postmasters of respective cities or from the Office of Headquarters Services, Post Office Department, Washington 25, D. C.

With mail volumes doubled in the past ten years and with the extensive use of part-time employees in the postal service the need for zone numbers to indicate the proper delivery office is extremely essential.

For most individuals and firms the use of zone numbers has become practically a habit, said Postmaster Finn.

"With tremendous duplication of street names, as exist in Greater Boston, the advantage of zone numbers are greater than in many big cities," said the postmaster.

They Who Care Less

We laud the proposed action under consideration by the School Committee that high school students who refuse to make an effort in their studies be put on probation, and, finally as last resort, suspended.

Quite naturally, we of today think our era is earth-shaking, one of the most important in history, etc., etc. We all are valiant warriors against the threats of Communism, Depression, Depravity, Immorality, Segregation, Dictatorship, Suppression, Divorce, Anti-Christ, Fear and Indifference.

Perhaps this era is or is not earth-shaking. We believe that every era is vital. We believe that every era has its roots in the ones that preceded it.

We believe that any era which rests entirely on its predecessors is inviting disaster.

It could be that there has been a little too much talk and prose in the past few decades of "Freedom." Undoubtedly, it is the most misunderstood word in our language. The results of mob-worship to that word has resulted in the deplorable defiance of other important things, such as "authority" and "obligation."

In our era of striving for freedom from all ills in the fields of religion, society, economics and brotherhood, we have nurtured a philosophy of: — I have my rights, I know them, I will insist upon them and the Hell with anybody or anything else.

Every decade, generation or era starts with Youth. But Youth did not originate itself. Rather, its calibre is the product of us, today's adults.

The true purpose of the above sermon is to lend our support as to the "why" of the proposal of the School Committee.

Obviously, the matter of probation and possible suspension of high school students is going to be met with screams from the fond parents involved — when it happens, too late. A firm stand is needed now.

We believe the proposal is a "must" if we wish to protect the freedom and right of the majority to the best education possible liberated from the continual drag and hampering tactics of those who do not care and care less!

Get A Guarantee

The Registrar of Motor Vehicles has been notified by the American Association of Motor Vehicles that used cars of foreign manufacture are being shipped to wholesale dealers in New York City and then sold to retail dealers there and in other parts of the country. Some of these may have been shipped to Massachusetts.

Used cars shipped from abroad were manufactured for use in foreign countries and their original equipment may not be in compliance with the requirements of the various states in this country. This is particularly true in regard to lights, directional signals, and glass.

The purchaser of such a used car, manufactured for use in a foreign country, may find himself faced with replacement requirements which could prove to be of prohibitive cost on a used vehicle.

Each purchaser of a used foreign car is warned to make sufficient inquiry to assure him that the equipment on such vehicle is in compliance with the requirements of this state, or secure a guarantee from the seller in this connection.

NEXT MONDAY is Groundhog Day. Let's hope it is cold, miserable and raining!

AHS Addition Group Plans Article

Bids for the construction of the Arlington high school addition will be opened at 8:10 p.m. tonight at the Junior High Industrial Arts building.

The Addition Building Committee has inserted a "safety" article in the warrant in the event the bids are too high.

The article will ask an additional appropriation if more funds are needed.

In announcing the move, Donald O. Johnston, chairman, said:

"The High School Additions and Reconstruction Committee has presented an article for the Warrant of the 1958 Annual Town Meeting for consideration in the event that the bids on the proposed additions to the Arlington Senior High School are in excess of the appropriation.

"Considering the constantly increasing cost of construction, including labor and materials since the appropriation was authorized, if the bid received would provide for the construction of the high school in its entirety, including the acquisition of required equipment, then the committee will ask the Finance Committee to vote 'no action' on this article.

"The Committee felt that this action was necessary to insure the carrying on of the work already begun on the reconstructing of the Lowe auditorium into 13 classrooms, and will make possible the construction of additional classrooms and gym so desperately needed at the Arlington High School now and in the future," he said.

On Beacon Hill

(Exclusive to Advocate by N. E. Newspaper Service)

LEXINGTON — Authority for the town of Lexington to borrow $500,000 on ten year bonds to remodel, reconstruct and make repairs to a junior high school, is granted under legislation signed by Governor Foster Furcolo.

MTA — Democratic Senator John E. Powers of Boston has proposed that zone fares be established for rides of the MTA, and the usual battle over extension of MTA deficit payments to fringe cities and towns was minor at a hearing before the committee on Metropolitan Affairs.

VACATION — Cape Cod Chamber of Commerce official Norman Cook appealed to the State Administration Committee for legislation to establish a state agency to promote resort trade but it was opposed by the Massachusetts Federation of Taxpayers Associations because of questions over the right of state funds to vote such spending.

MUNICIPAL PLANTS — The House gave final approval to legislation which would allow cities and towns to borrow outside the debt limit for expansion of municipal light plants. Warning was made that unless such law was approved local tax rates would run as high as $100.

WITNESS FEES — Rep. William E. Maloney (R) of Lexington won a battle in the House to obtain new consideration for a bill which would call for payment of a $3.50 witness fee for police officers called into court. The bill, slated for defeat was referred to the committee on counties.

STATISTICS — The bill to transfer from the office of Secretary of State to the Department of Public Health, jurisdiction over recording of birth, marriage and death certificates was killed in the House despite a plea by Rep. Theodore J. Valtes (R) of Melrose that the only reason for opposing transfer was because Arthur J. Hassett of Weymouth, the director of such work was scheduled for retirement.

GOOD FRIDAY — The bill to have Good Friday declared a legal half holiday has been referred to the ways and means committee with threats that unless prompt action is taken on the bill proponents will try to bring the measure before the House soon for action, feeling the reference was a bid to kill the measure.

DIVORCE — The proposal to have a six months cooling off period before divorce action could be properly considered by the courts has been killed. . . During debate, Rep. Peter B. Gay (D) of Taunton, favoring the legislation, said a Bristol county judge would not consider divorce actions until after the six months period and Rep. Antonio L. Silva (D) of New Bedford told the House that this was another matter on which help could be given persons, upset, who think divorce courts are an answer to their problems.

STATE LOTTERY — The House by vote of 77 to 131 refused to approve conduct of a state lottery "to take a chance on a balanced state budget".

TEACHERS — The Committee on Education has approved the teachers "right to eat" bill which guarantees a half hour lunch period away from the pupils between 11 a.m. and 1 p.m. . . At the same time the committee ok'd a bill which would permit substitute teachers who meet certification requirements to be covered under the contributory retirement law.

RULES — In a bid to try and speed the legislative session the House has adopted a procedure change which allows the Rules committee to kill matters by a virtual pocket veto and it was argued by leaders of both parties that such a policy would curb consideration on proposals made just to attract public attention.

NORTH ANDOVER — Without debate the house gave final approval to a bill which would allow North Andover voters to pass on the question of introducing fluorine in the local drinking water supply.

GAMBLING — The House ways and means committee was urged to favor a state lottery or sweepstakes to raise over $200,000,000 of which half would be distributed to cities and towns and the only speakers on the measure were Rep. George H. O'Farrell (D) of Malden, and Miss Barbara Ann Thomas of Boston. One of the proposals would require that to conduct a lottery in the county there would have to be a referendum on the issue to make it legal in the county.

HIGHWAYS — The House ways and means committee has hurriedly approved an administration bill which would open the way for the state to receive federal highway funds immediately and use those funds to finance extra highway spending, expecting to make some additional $200,000,000 immediately available for new highway work in the state.

SCIENTISTS — With the current talk about the scarcity of trained American Scientists, Senator Ralph C. Mahar (R) of Orange appealed to the legislative committee on Education to support a bill which would revise scientific courses in public high schools to encourage boys and girls to follow that profession.

SALTWATER — Because of protests against licensing persons to enjoy salt water fishing, Rep. John F. Dolan (R) of Ipswich has withdrawn legislation calling for such a license.

SPORTSMEN — Sportsmen said that they can do all the hunting they want to on six days of the week, and they did not press for legislation opposed by religious groups which would have provided for hunting privileges on Sunday. When it was proposed that persons 65 years of age be given sportsmen's licenses free of charge it was pointed out that the state would lose about $60,000 a year in income.

VETS — Massachusetts veteran groups have appealed for expansion of the law which now limits local spending to $500 for observance of holiday celebrations in order to make more cash available for such purposes.

FUNDS — Governor Foster Furcolo has approved a $30,000 increase in the 1957-58 budget of the Bureau of Health Services to combat Cystic Fibrosis and the funds will make more and fore clinics available to the public.

UNIFORM PAY — The Legislative committee on Cities has been urged to establish a policy for uniform pay of mayors and city councillors in Massachusetts communities.

That Man About Town

By MAT

Flooded cellars again! Residents along Sunnyside ave. and the Alewife Brook, also near Post's Corner and the dumping area are wailing. And there are other bad spots.

Those near the dump claim that as tons of stuff are deposited, the water in the bog is being forced toward their homes. Town authorities claim there is a huge drain pipe to alleviate the condition. Residents counter-claim that the drain is not functioning because the outlet is under water.

We've looked over the area and have come up with the unscientific conclusion, where the heck can the water go without a pumping station?

Only 30 more days and the saga of Noah could be reenacted here.

The opening of the MDC skating rink turned out to be one of those hopeless mob scenes. Every pol from here to Shrewsbury was there.

With recent School Committee approval, it is now only a matter of a short time before Appleton place will be extended through to Quincy st. A majority of the Committee had opposed the extension for several years.

What a terrible night for the Mothers March on Police on Tuesday night! If you were not called upon, step up by yourself and contribute. Call MI 8-6482 and say "I want to give. What next?"

Thanks to the reluctance of Mr. Shaw to file nomination papers, MAT now becomes a proven seer when he said that Assessor Bill Hauser would be unopposed.

An interesting sideplay has been added to the Selectmen's race with the addition of John E. Donovan. He is a former time-keeper for the Public Works Dept., a former part-time postal employee, and, if memory serves correctly, a Town Meeting Member.

MAT has been a bit stupid! Take a look at the Housing Authority contest! Gentlemen, you are in the limelight now and not to be ignored in the future!

LETTERS to the EDITOR

(An Advocate feature in which readers are invited to express their views and opinions. This feature is printed every week to give an indication of the thinking of you, the public.)

THANKS TO ALL

To the Editor:

I wish to extend my sincere thanks through the medium of your newspaper, to the members of the Arlington Municipal Employees Association for their wonderful cooperation in our recent Christmas Charity Program.

It was indeed heartwarming when I had the pleasure of bringing over (200) Christmas presents to the children of the Walter E. Fernald State School in Waverley.

Following is a letter from the Superintendent: Mr. Kenneth P. Troy, President. Arlington Municipal Employees Assoc.

Dear Mr. Troy:

I want to extend to you and to each and every member of the Arlington Municipal Employees Assoc., my sincere thanks for the most generous donation of assorted toys etc., received here at the school.

I assure you the contribution brought much festive cheer to our patients, who were so pleased and made so happy by the toys. Many, many thanks.

I especially appreciate the thoughtfulness, kindly interest and spirit of cooperation in our work which these gifts manifested.

Very truly yours,
Malcolm J. Farrell M.D.

I feel that it is only fitting and proper to mention the work of Margaret Hutchinson of the Assessors Office, Dorothy Coolidge of the Welfare Department and the aid given by the Cafeteria School workers.

Thanks once again and let's make this a must every year.

While in this thanksgiving mood, I wish, also, to express my sincere thanks to the merchants of Arlington who so generously donated prizes to make our Christmas Bazaar such a success at St. James Church.

There are a lot of ery good and generous townsfolk in Arlington.

Very truly yours,
Kenneth P. Troy

SUPPORTS HARRIS

To the Editor:

I wish to call attention to an outstanding candidate for Selectman. He is George A. Harris, who has served us for five years, fully equipped as a 21-year Town Meeting member and 18-year member on many Town Committees.

He has exemplified a fine public servant, in the face of enormous problems, and has provided fine leadership and good housekeeping.

George A. Harris has given his town better government, and a big push forward in meeting its long range problems.

Conscientious voters, knowing his excellent qualifications, should give him their first vote.

Hugh J. Mulligan
37 Hamlet st.

CITES HARRIS

Dear Editor:

There is no public servant who has given his time and service to such a great degree to the welfare of Arlington residents than George A. Harris. His knowledge, experience and aptitude has always been for a better Arlington.

That he is willing to run for re-election again is a gain for all voters and taxpayers.

There is no substitute for sound experience and George A. Harris has nearly a quarter of a century of voluntary public service.

A vote for him, first on the ballot, is a vote to keep Arlington first in the Commonwealth.

Mrs. Sarah Clark
334 Park ave.

To the Editor:

I have been impressed by the new light in Arlington—that of the tower and the lancet window at the rear of the nave of St. John's Episcopal church on Pleasant st.

Presuming that it was a part of the Christmastide display, I was surprised to hear that it is rather a permanent institution. That is what I was informed, upon inquiry.

It reminded me of the Biblical text "Let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father which is in Heaven."

Yours,
C. G. F.

To the Editor:

The members of Trinity Baptist church, at their recently-held 53rd Annual Meeting, expressed their sincere appreciation for the many courtesies extended by your staff, and the excellent coverage in your fine paper of our many church activities throughout the past year.

It is my privilege as Clerk to forward this note of appreciation, and to wish you every future success.

Your very sincerely,
Francis D. McAuliffe,
Clerk

To the Editor:

Through the medium of your newspaper, I wish to publicly thank all the people, who signed my nomination papers for the office of School Committee.

Very truly yours,

IN 25TH YEAR

What is now the Arlington Philharmonic Society started as the Community Orchestra of Arlington with Leonard D. Wood as conductor and Grace Gordon Pierce, former Arlington public school music supervisor, as the first president.

A few years later the Gilbert and Sullivan chorus of the Friends of the Drama, under the direction of the late Edward W. Center, appeared with the orchestra at the Pops Concerts. Also, the chorus of the Arlington Woman's Club, with invited men, gave the "Messiah" annually.

In the 1940's it became a cor- group of orchestra a lar chorus and the na as changed to the Philharmonic Society of Arlington, Inc.

The society is now composed of an orchestra numbering about forty players and a chorus of around seventy-five. There is a Board of Directors and a list of sponsors. A great deal of the income of the Society is obtained from the contributions of those who become sponsors.

There are a few active members who are professional instrumentalists or singers, and some how were formerly professionals. However, the majority are amateurs who love and enjoy fine music.

The purpose, as stated in the charter, is "to maintain a symphony orchestra and chorus and to give concerts; to promote the enjoyment of music and the rendering of music through concerts; and to establish and increase high standards of orchestral and choral music and to promote musical education."

Any person whose qualifications are approved by the Conductor may take an active part in the Orchestra or chorus.

Paul Bauguss conductor, Leonard D. Wood President.

At a combined Court of Honor held at the Park Avenue Congregational church Monday night, Donald Avery of Troop 41 and Robert Hiatt of Troop 85 received the badge of an Eagle Scout, the highest scout rank in the Boy Scout organization.

Participating in the special ceremonies were leaders from the Arlington District and Sachem Council.

Donald Johnston, district chairman, addressed the Eagle Candidates, reminding them of the honor of their achievement and the responsibilities which attend the honor of an Eagle badge.

Charles Clark, district commissioner, conducted the examination of the candidates and Herky Foster, field executive from Sachem Council, presented the Eagle pins and certificates on behalf of the National Council, Boy Scouts of America.

An honor guard of former Eagle Scouts, including Charles Sampson, Horace Homer, and Herky Foster, escorted the candidates to the Court of Honor.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hiatt and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Avery joined their sons for the award and miniature Eagle pins were presented by the boys to their mothers.

Attending the ceremony were Joe Skenderian and Joe Walker representing Troop 41 and Philip Blacksmith and Ted Brayton representing Troop 85.

By Herb Mason

Does it pay to have children's shoes repaired?

Yes. In spite of the fact that the writer of this column is constantly warning against the danger of allowing children to wear outgrown shoes there are many periods in a child's young life-time when foot growth is very slow. If feet continued to grow as rapidly as they do in infancy there would be only two feet to a yard.

A nice practice that is developing among shoe-minded parents is that of bringing the worn shoes to the shoemaker for a size check before taking them to the shoe repair.

In an effort such as Foot-saving Education it is consoling to the shoemaker to be reminded occasionally that parents regard his effort as something of a health service rather than just an insidious way of extracting their hard earned money.

Law Changes Sought In Licensing Of Dogs

(Special to the Advocate)

Attention of the Joint Committee on Counties was focused on dogs this week, when changes were sought in the laws governing their licensing, and their owners' liability for damage or injury "man's best friend" might cause.

Rep. John F. X. Davoren (D), Milford, proposed a restriction on the liability of a dog owner whose animal, while under treatment by a veterinarian injures the doctor or his assistant.

The existing law holds the owner liable for injury to any person unless the dog has been subjected to teasing, tormenting or abuse by the person injured, according to Robert S. Phillips, a Milford attorney. In his experience as a lawyer, he said, he had found that claimants are frequently awarded substantial sums.

He cited the case of a friend whose dog, when taken to a veterinarian for treatment, bit the doctor's helper, who brought suit against the owner.

Phillips said it would seem fair to expect that people in the business of treating dogs should assume the risk of injury, and he pointed out that the business of veterinarians today has attained the status of big business.

The Milford lawyer implied that dogs are discriminated against, in that vets assume the risk of injury when treating a cat or a horse, but not in the case of a dog.

Rep. Davoren was recorded as being in favor of the measure.

George B. Treadwell of Spencer, chairman, and Donald Crook of North Brookfield, member, of the Massachusetts Federation of Poultry Associations called for changes in the laws relative to the date dog licenses are effective, and to reimbursement for damage caused by certain dogs to live stock and fowls. Filer of the two Treadwell petitions were Rep. Philip A. Quinn (D), Spencer.

Both Treadwell and Crook objected to that portion of the existing law that denies reimbursement for damages inflicted on live stock or fowls by dogs if, at the time the damage is done, the live stock or fowl owner is himself the owner or keeper of an unlicensed dog.

Donald Crook stated that only a third of the live stock owners were aware of the law, and many of them are likely to forget to register their dogs at the designated time. Because 80 percent of the dog owners own no live stock, the law discriminates against 20 percent of the dog owners who do, he declared.

The other petition brought by the Poultry Associations would advance the date on which dogs must be licensed from June to April. Thus, the mayor or selectmen of a municipality would annually, within 10 days after April 1, issue a warrant to dog off-

Noted Educator Joins Draper, Sears

John J. Desmond Jr., of Milton who retired last June as State Commissioner of Education under the statutory age requirement has joined the investment firm of Draper, Sears and Company according to an announcement made today.

Desmond will be a registered representative of the firm and will work with the Winchester office managed by John I. Donovan.

At the time of his retirement from the office of Commissioner of Education, Desmond had served 11 years in that capacity.

He prepared at Boston Latin School for Harvard and graduated cum laude in 1909 taking his Master of Arts degree with final honors a year later.

His first position in education was as Vice-Principal of Saugus High School.

He went from there to the Cambridge school system in 1911 and became Headmaster of Chicopee High School in 1913, and Superintendent of Schools in that city in 1921.

It was while serving there that he was called to assume the leadership of the State's educational system in 1946.

Directing them to confine all dogs not licensed.

The result would be, Treadwell said, more dogs licensed, more revenue for the towns, and more protection for owners of poultry and live stock.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

Divine Love's inexhaustible power and abundance will be brought out Sunday at Christian Science services.

Matthew's account (ch 8) of the healing by Christ Jesus of the centurion's servant will be included in the Bible passages to be read in the Lesson-Sermon on "Love."

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will be read the following (494:10): "Divine Love always has met and always will meet every human need. It is not well to imagine that Jesus demonstrated the divine power to heal only for a select number of time, since to all mankind in every hour, divine Love supplies all good."

The Golden Text is from I John (4:7): "Beloved, let us love one another: for love is of God; and every one that loveth is born of God, and knoweth God."
